Republican Workers Disobeying the First Presidency.

NAILED AND EXPOSED.

John C. Graham is busy telling Mormons that Joseph F. Smith speaks the Political Sentiments of the Mormon Leaders—Did He Ever Tell Anything More False?

The following affidavit speaks for itself. It reveals the character of the campaign the desperate republicans are making. They do not hesitate to override the declarations of Presidents Woodruff and Cannon, made at the commencement of the campaign, that the church is neutral in politics. All that it cares for is to have the campaign made on clean and christian-like principles.

This flying in the face of the first presidency in this way is very wicked, but it is at the same time very characteristic of the man who does it. The intelligent men in the Mormon church will not be caught with this sort of chaff, will not be played for gudgeons in this way.

We respectfully call the attention of the first presidency to this affidavit. It was received by Levi Openshaw through the mail yesterday and the following introductory letter accompanied it.

SANTAQUIN, Utah, Oct. 22, 1894. Mr. Levi Openshaw, Provo, Utah.

DEAR SIR:—I did not think when speaking of Graham's remarks about Joseph F. Smith in our conversation yesterday that it would ever come to publication. Mr. Graham has always been a friend of mine, but when men go out attempting for our leaders in our religious faith I think it my duty as an American citizen to let such facts be known. It is all right to preach religion in religious places, but democracy is too solid in Santaquin to stuff ballots with any such doctrine as we have had here of late. It may have effect on that class of people who have to be led with a string, but most of us are not as green as our old clothes make us look. But then the poor fellows have got to fall back on something. It is said a drowning man will hang to a straw. Hoping my affidavit sworn to before I. B. Heales is all that is necessary.

I remain yours etc.,

R. S. DUKE.

AFFIDAVIT.

TERRITORY OF UTAH, ss.

County of Utah, ss. On this 22nd day of October, A. D. 1894, personally appeared before me, Thomas B. Heales, a party public in and for Utah county, Utah territory, duly commissioned and qualified, Robert S. Duke, who was by me first duly sworn according to law, and who on his said oath deposes and says: He met John C. Graham at Santaquin county and territory aforesaid on the morning of Sunday the 21st day of October, A. D. 1894; that the conversation between them turned on politics; that the said John C. Graham asked Robert S. Duke if he had seen the speech made by Joseph F. Smith in Salt Lake city on politics, and being answered in the affirmative, remarked that whenever he read anything from the source that came from, he, the said Robert S. Duke, could put it down as being the sentiments of the leaders of the church.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 22nd day of October, A. D. 1894.

THOMAS B. HEALES, Notary Public. My commission expires December 31, 1894.

IT'S JOHNNY'S BOODLE.

The Salt Lake News-Gatherers Would Do Well to Give Credit Where it is Due.

The Salt Lake Herald has one reporter who very frequently gets off his base. It is the fellow who does the police court rounds.

That reporter seems to delight in giving credit and every peace officer who resides in Salt Lake city fulsome praise and all credit and out of season. He even goes so far as to take up good work done by Utah county officers and credit the Salt Lake men with it. This has been done by him time and time again.

During the last few days, since the capture of Bartlett and Murry, the Santa Fe train wreckers in the persons of the men who committed the burglaries here in Provo last week, who gave their names as Ryan and Smith, particularly has this Salt Lake Herald reporter been talking through his hat.

It is well known here that the men would never have been arrested but for the work of Sheriff Brown of this county, and his aids, and it is also well known that the Salt Lake officers had in their possession the same information as did Mr. Brown, and that they had the criminals in their hands twenty-four hours and never guessed who they were, and that it was not until after Sheriff Brown had the prize secured that they learned what they had missed. After they learned this, four of the Salt Lake officers came down and begged for a slice of the reward.

None of all this has the Herald reporter ever mentioned, but on the contrary he has persistently ignored Sheriff Brown and the Utah county officers, and this morning he has the following to say:

"The clever capture of two of the Santa Fe train wreckers, in this city, by the police, gave the Denver officials and the railroad people great pleasure. Both of the men are being held at Provo, subject to the orders of Chief Pratt. A dispatch was received yesterday from the Colorado sheriff, asking that they be guarded very carefully, and conveying the information that requisition papers were being prepared. The third man is still at large, but the police will secure $400 for the two captured."

The men are being held here by Sheriff Brown, and not subject to the orders of Chief Pratt. The dispatch referred to was received by Mr. Brown, the police will not secure $400.00 for the two captured. Johnny Brown's fingers will wind around that boodle, and all that "the police" will get of it will be only as much as Johnny's generosity prompts him to give Officer Sheets and his partner who made the arrest.

CARNIVAL OF CRIME.

Wholesale Robbery of Numerous Towns in Indian Territory.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Oct. 23.—Last night's programme in the great carnival of crime which is now holding the boards in the Indian Territory, consisted of the wholesale robbery of several small towns in genuine desperado style by Mr. Bill Cook, supported by a strong and desperate company of eight or ten followers.

Four men rode into the town of Watova early in the evening, making their approach made known by a promiscuous discharge of firearms. The bandits terrorized the inhabitants and most of them sought safety in their houses behind barricaded doors. The outlaws visited every store in the village and ran the merchants away with what they wanted.

The took from the stores all the money they could find, and whatever else they wanted. The Watova post-office was robbed of about $40 in cash and about $50 in stamps.

From Watova the gang ran on into Tala, ten miles away, where they repeated their depredations. They rode into the town and proceeded at once to rob stores right and left. Every store in the place was visited, and the proprietors compelled to turn over everything. The postoffice was also robbed of stamps and a small amount of money. The bandits entered the town and made no effort to conceal their identity. None were masked. From reports of their descriptions they were undoubtedly the same gang that held up the Missouri Pacific train No. 331 at Tala. While they were holding up the postoffice the train pulled into the station. The trainmen were notified of the presence of the gang and the train was started at once. The bandits galloped out of town discharging their Winchester.

THE PAYSON RALLY

Rawlins and Roberts Address Two Large Audiences.

ROBERTS WAS DEFIANT

And for the Benefit of His Critics Reported With Double Emphasis the Remarks he Made at Beaver—Rawlins was More Than Eloquent and Convincing.

The truths of democracy were expounded last evening at Payson to immense audiences by Hons J. L. Rawlins and B. H. Roberts.

It is estimated that there were fifteen hundred people present at the two meetings. The opera house was crowded to overflowing, every available inch of space being occupied. Standing room was at a premium and during the three hours of the meeting the listeners were held spell bound. The large meeting-house was also filled with a like audience.

Mr. Rawlins spoke for two hours the opera house dealing chiefly with the tariff and silver questions. During the last half hour of his speech he rose to a height of eloquence and powerful logic such as has seldom been heard in a political meeting.

Mr. Roberts at the meeting-house in his own powerful and eloquent way, also touched upon the tariff question, but dealt chiefly with local questions. To the delight of the democrats and the discomfiture of the republicans, he everlastingly scored the latter party with the truths of history.

Mr. Roberts is as fearless as he is eloquent. He flung defiance at his critics and repeated with double emphasis his remarks at Beaver.

For the last hour of the two meetings the gentlemen changed off. Mr. Rawlins speaking at the meeting-house and Mr. Roberts at the opera house.

A torchlight procession, a brass band and a shot gun brigade met the speakers at the depot and paraded the streets.

Altogether the rally was one of the largest if not the very largest ever held in Utah county.
